8. Policy

8.1 General

Fermilab’s policy is to provide accurate and timely information to government officials, in accordance with the laboratory’s Policy on Transparency, applicable laws and regulations, and FRA contract requirements.

Interactions between the laboratory and government officials should be carried out in a manner that seeks to meet Fermilab’s goals for external communication as outlined in the laboratory’s Policy on Communication:

- Inform the public of Fermilab’s mission, activities and achievements.
- Build a positive, supportive relationship with the laboratory’s local community and region that is focused on openness and trust.
- Develop, maintain and make known the communication channels that are available to the public.

FRA contract funds may not be used to carry out activities that seek to influence:

- Congressional action on legislation or appropriation matters pending before Congress
- The results of federal, state or local elections
- The proposal, bid or extension process for the DOE Management and Operating contract for Fermilab.

DOE property may not be used to carry out:

- Political activities
- Activities related to the proposal, bid or extension process for the DOE Management and Operating contract for Fermilab.

8.2 Informational and educational activities

Fermilab employees and others acting on behalf of the laboratory are permitted to participate in activities whose sole purpose is to inform and educate government officials about laboratory activities, and to use DOE property and FRA contract funds to support such activities. Advance approval from the Government Affairs Committee (gac@fnal.gov) is required to conduct such activities with elected officials or their staff members.

8.3 Visits by government officials to the Fermilab site
Employees and users are required to obtain approval from the Government Affairs Committee (gac@fnal.gov) prior to escorting government officials onto the Fermilab site, unless such officials are employees or representatives of the U.S. Department of Energy.

8.4 Responses to requests for information from government officials

Fermilab employees and others may receive requests for information from government officials in the course of their work at, or on behalf of, the laboratory.

Responses to mission-related requests from non-elected government officials should be prepared and transmitted by Fermilab employees, contractors and users according to the processes and procedures established by their management and supervisory chain. Examples of such requests include but are not limited to:

- Queries from officials and employees of the U.S. Department of Energy or National Science Foundation regarding mission-related work at or in conjunction with Fermilab;
- Queries from state and federal regulatory agencies regarding mission-related activities;
- Queries from international funding agencies regarding mission-related work at or in conjunction with Fermilab.

Responses to all requests from elected officials or their staff members, or to non-mission-related requests from non-elected government officials require prior approval from the Government Affairs Committee (gac@fnal.gov). Employees and others acting on behalf of Fermilab must contact the Government Affairs Committee for approval and for further information before preparing such responses.
